2011! Great to see such interest and commitment. Well done and thank you from Wendy and all your teachers!

Congratulations to all those students who have completed their Certificates and Diplomas this year, you deserve all the success I know will be yours. I'm sure we will also see you again as we introduce new and interesting courses for you to add to your skills set. Rob Bennett will be teaching the Advanced Techniques for Massage Therapists course and Jennifer Brown, An Introduction to Iridology.

Hey there! We had a very enjoyable end of year dinner! Had to move it eventually to the footpath to finish what we had to share! You are a wonderful bunch of people and I agree with your teachers, I also have felt honoured to be part of your Learning. We have had a lot of fun along the way and our College is so professional but also small enough to be a "family"!

WHAT'S NEWS?

The BIG News:

As you all know, the time has finally come for me to retire. I have been teaching or facilitating education from pre school to adult education, and everything in between, for just on 50 years!! With very few exceptions I have loved and enjoyed it all! It has been a great honour to particularly be involved with such keen and committed students as we have here at The College of Natural Therapies.

The good news is that the college will go on in its present format and I expect it will be bigger and better than ever. We have been 16 years in reaching this point and all our new and current students have benefitted from these years of building and shaping the College to what it is today. I will be there to see all our new students enroll for the beginning of the year and will help guide the College until the new owners are able to take over. I will miss you and the pastimes I have pursued with such enthusiasm. I hope I will be able to still keep up with how you are all succeeding in your new careers. You are so fine! Thank you for your love and respect over the years I wish you all the best the Universe can give you. From Wendy
